Value of newspapers

Newspapers are generally aimed at the general public or particular groups of the general public.

They are useful to find out about key events, people and places. They include opinion pieces, of either writers, editors or members of the public in form of Letters to the Editor. They are also useful for all sorts of ephemera (weather, court circulars, advertising, etc). Larger newspapers will also provide

- Scope today: later 17th century to 21st century, largely English language but with global reach.
- Cover subscription and key free web resources, but not social media
- Historical archives v. current content
- Broadsheet v. tabloid

The value of newspapers

- News & views
- Commentary on politics, economics, social and cultural life, foreign affairs, justice system
- Ephemera, e.g. births, deaths, court circular, advertising, images, cartoons, weather, sports results, stock market, fashion, etc.
- BUT need to understand your newspaper: political, religious, class, gender, racial affiliation

Search Tip 1: Choose search terms

- AND between all words which must be present in search results
e.g. tax avoidance AND royal family
- OR between synonyms or alternative terms to indicate that one or other word must be present
e.g. royal family OR king OR queen
- Quote marks to search for a specific phrase
e.g. “tax avoidance”
- Truncation finds alternative word endings
e.g. avoid* finds avoid, avoidance, avoided, avoids
- Proximity operators (NEAR, ADJ, SAME, w/ etc) - same as AND but the words must appear near one another.

Search Tip 2: What are you searching?

- News
- Opinion pieces e.g. editorials, columnists, letters
- Ephemera e.g. weather, horoscopes, crosswords, cartoons, TV schedules, adverts
- Supplements / Features
- Records of birth, marriages, deaths

Search Tip 3: Where are you searching?

Searching full text can return too many results

Searching headlines is unreliable

Lead paragraph can be a good compromise

Search Tip 4: Mind your language!

- Language used by newspapers may be emotive, colloquial, puns etc
- Some regular columns always keep the same title
- Historic - what language would have been used at the time?

GERMAN PAPERS.
VIENNA, SEPT. 12.

His Highness Prince Metternich, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, &c. arrived here this afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock, in the best health, from his journey to Italy.

A great banking-house at Vienna lately received from one of its correspondents at Boston a letter, which has been obligingly communicated to us for the purpose of publishing the following extract from it in our paper:—

“ Boston, July 4, 1817.

“ The rage of emigration from Europe to this country prevails to such a degree, that every ship which arrives is crowded with emigrants, who, on their arrival, are half starved. Among those last arrived, the most are Swiss, Westphalians, &c.

THE CHURCH.—On Monday last a chapter was held at the Collegiate Church, for the purpose of electing a fellow, in the room of the Rev. John Clowes, M. A., whose resignation we lately announced, when the Rev. Richard Parkinson, M. A., theological lecturer to the clerical institution at St. Bees, Cumberland, and incumbent of Whitworth, in this county, was elected to the vacant fellowship. Mr. Parkinson is known as the writer of two volumes of sermons, which have been well received by the public.

We understand that the Rev. H. Raikes, who is appointed to preach the anniversary sermon, on Whit Monday, at the Collegiate Church, is the nephew of the late Robert Raikes, Esq., of Gloucester, the benevolent and generally acknowledged founder of Sunday schools.

On Sunday morning last a sermon was preached at St. Thomas's Church, Ardwick, in behalf of the Sunday

THE THEATRES.

DRURY LANE THEATRE.—This theatre opened for the season on Saturday evening last. The performances were such as to develop its resources as an opera house. They consisted of Balfe's first and most popular opera, the Siege of Rochelle, and of the new ballet, the Peri, the last fashionable production of this class at the Grand Opera of Paris. In opera and ballet Mr Bunn has endeavoured to provide the strongest possible companies. He seems actually to have engrossed all the musical actors and actresses of the metropolis; he has committed the musical direction to M. Benedict; his orchestra is excellent, and his chorus numerous and apparently efficient. The Peri is, we are convinced, by far the most brilliant and beautiful ballet that has ever been seen in an English theatre. It is only about two months ago that it was produced for the first time at the Grand Opera of Paris; so that Mr Bunn has shown no small activity in bringing it out so splendidly here. It is called, in its French title, a "ballet fantastique," and with reason, for its subject is wild and fantastic in the extreme—all the better for an entertainment in which there is little place for the realities of this world. Carlotta Grisi is here (as she was in Paris) the Peri, that elegant creation of oriental fancy—a being to whom there is nothing quite similar in the legends of the west; but her nature is familiar to the readers of Thomas Moore—that is to say, to everybody. Grisi is already known at the Italian Opera house;

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS

ASSASSINATION OF SIR JOHN BULL, CHIEF MINISTER OF ARAB UNITY AND FRIEND OF BRITAIN.
The assassination of Sir John Bull, Chief Minister of Arab Unity and Friend of Britain, on the 10th of the month of the year 1840, has been the subject of a dramatic and successful performance at the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, on the 10th of the month of the year 1840. The play was written by Sir John Bull, and is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a story of a man who has done good for his country and his people, and who has been rewarded with a crown of glory. BREMEN CAPTURED: GERMANY'S SECOND LARGEST PORT FALLS TO THE AL functionally intended to reassure that was promised with the protection of the authorities. No illegal attempt was made, and the conduct of the Government on that occasion had dispelled the apprehensions of the friends of the liberty of the press.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

PORTUGAL—LISBON, Jan. 9.—The Cortes were opened by the Queen in person on the 2nd instant.

The sessions of the past week have been taken up with the usual preliminaries, and, in all probability, another or two will elapse without any business of importance being entered upon. This is not to be wondered at, when, in 1840, fifteen days were actually wasted in discussing the literal meaning and value of the word "co-operate." This is no ill-natured criticism, but a positive fact. On the second day of the meeting of the members, their whole time was occupied in high controversy relative to the election of the president, and whether the presidency should be an annual one or otherwise. This debate led to another difficulty, which was, how was the beginning and end of the legislative year to be considered and decided; and, finally, an adjournment of the question was proposed, as being too intricate and important for any hasty determination respecting it. Such is the sort of Parliament to which the interests, and almost vitality of the country, are confided! It cannot be denied that there are, among the members of both Houses, men of very superior talent, but if it is never brought into action, the people they represent are bereaved of the support they calculate and depend upon. Patriotism, as I have often said, is unknown among them, or, if felt, unpractical.

CHAMBERLAIN BACK TO-DAY: "FRIENDLY" TALK WITH HITLER TO GO ON

MR. NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN IS FLYING BACK FROM BERCHTESGADEN TO LONDON TO-DAY.

An official announcement in Berchtesgaden last night said:

"The Fuehrer conferred with Mr. Chamberlain at Obersalzberg to-day. An extensive and open exchange of opinion on the present situation took place.

"Mr. Chamberlain returns to England to-morrow in order to confer with the British Cabinet.

"A new conference will take place in a few days."

The announcement was sensational. It was made when Mr. Chamberlain returned to his Berchtesgaden hotel after a three-hour talk with Hitler.

On his return Mr. Chamberlain said:

25,000 COMPETITORS FOR BEAUTY PRIZES

Huge Total Reached in Our Contest.

REMEMBER JANUARY 15.

The Daily Mirror £1,000 Beauty Competition for Women War Workers, which is arousing such general interest throughout the country, has just scored another great success.

During the week-end the total of competitors aspiring to fame as Britain's Beauty Queens reached 25,000.

This means that the total of 12,000 competitors who competed in the famous English Beauty Contest organised by The Daily Mirror twelve years ago, in response to a challenge from the United States, has been more than doubled in the present contest—a great record which is most convincing testimony of its tremendous popularity everywhere.

THE "JIM CROW"

A Georgia Railroad's Answer to a Colored Man's Complaint

The Georgia Railroad filed with the Inter-State Commission an answer to the charge of W. H. Heard, a colored man, that he was refused first-class accommodations and compelled to ride in the "Crow" car. The railroad has in any way given such designation of any car, and if Mr. Heard means that the company is responsible for the implied contempt for its passengers which is implied in the answer continues:

WARNS OF A "HOLY WAR."

Mrs. A. L. Fisher Tells Twentieth Century Club of Arabian Affairs.

Mrs. A. L. Fisher, an honorary captain in the Arabian army and a member of the staff of Emir Faisal, potential ruler of United Syria, declared yesterday in an address before the Twentieth Century Club, in the Cosmos Club, that the "holy war" which was narrowly averted at the beginning of the world conflict may yet be ordered by the leader of the Moslem Church.

Declaring that such action by the Moslems would have a terrifying effect upon the world, Mrs. Fisher said that upon the manner in which the Paris conference handles the question of a united Syria depends the

Framing Indian Constitution

LIBERALS' PLAN

ALLAHABAD, December 30.
Proposing the resolution on the framing of the future constitution for India, at the National Liberal Federation, Pandit Iqbal Narain Gurtu described the various attempts made in Britain to frame the constitution for India from 1900 to 1935. He pointed out that the system had not been helpful to India. Therefore, in this resolution they laid stress on the point that the next constitution that would have to be passed by Parliament should, as far as possible, be hammered out by Indians.
The main question for them to consider was whether the scheme of a Constituent Congress Assembly

North Korea warned it would not cave in to Donald Trump's demands over missile tests, sparking fears the devastating war with the US was only a matter of time.

As the American president's warships headed to the region amid claims he was set to launch a pre-emptive strike, capital Pyongyang threatened to blitz American targets with nuclear attacks.

North Korea's only ally China pleaded with the two sides to pull back from the brink of war and even US President Trump appealed for calm as the world slid dangerously towards a conflict that would have catastrophic effects.

But dictator Kim Jong-un threatened to "ravage" US attackers and warned that their military bases and "the headquarters of evil" in South Korea would be "pulverised within a few minutes".

A statement from North Korea said: "Our toughest counteraction against the US and its vassal forces will be taken in such a merciless manner as not to allow the aggressors to survive."

North Korea vows to "ruthlessly ravage" United States if attacked as US aircraft carrier heads for region

Vice Foreign Minister Han Song-ryol added: "We've got a powerful nuclear deterrent already in our hands and we certainly will not keep our arms crossed in the face of a US pre-emptive strike."
