

John Fraser Collection of Propaganda and Topographical Postcards

Donated in 2006, this is a fascinating collection of propaganda (and some topographical) postcards, from the beginnings of the postcard era to date. Its strengths are in the First and Second World Wars, which are represented internationally. The John Fraser Collection has not been digitised, but volunteers have been cataloguing the cards, notably those from the South African War and the First World War. The catalogue status of each box is noted in the index.

The sequence is arranged by country, and then chronologically.

There is also a series of boxes of non-postcard material
